Market Disclosures

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Not all footnotes apply to all clients or all accounts.

None of the Information constitutes a recommendation by Schwab or a solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any securities. The information is not intended to provide tax, legal or investment advice. Schwab does not guarantee the suitability or potential value of any particular investment or information source. Neither Schwab, nor these entities guarantee the accuracy, timeliness, completeness or correct sequencing of this information nor warrants any results from the use of the information.

Securities are depicted for informational purposes only, and do not constitute recommendations, offers to sell, or solicitations of offers to purchase any security.

Reports are made available for informational purposes only and should not be considered as an individualized recommendation or personalized investment advice. Each investor needs to review an investment strategy for his or her own particular situation before making any investment decision.

Quotes Disclosures

Equities market data is provided from multiple sources including but not limited to Cboe One, Nasdaq Basic/Last Sale, and the National Market System Plan.

U.S. and Canadian index quotes are real-time, all other international index quotes may be delayed by as much as 15 minutes. Before trading, please check a real-time quote for current information.

Streaming quotes may update as frequently as once per second. Streaming may be disabled to maintain system performance.

Index and Volatility Disclosures

Indexes are unmanaged, do not incur management fees, costs, expenses, transaction fees or other related expenses and cannot be invested in directly. For additional information, please visit schwab.com/indexdefinitions (<https://www.schwab.com/resource/index-and-investment-term-definitions>).

Schwab does not recommend the use of technical analysis as a sole means of investment research.

Investment returns will fluctuate and are subject to market volatility, so that an investor's shares, when redeemed or sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

Investments in foreign investments may incur greater risks than domestic investments. International investing involves special risk considerations and may expose an investor to greater volatility. Factors to consider include, but are not limited to, currency fluctuation, lower liquidity, differences in securities regulation, accounting standards, foreign taxation, regulations, and political risks. Investing in emerging markets may accentuate these risks.

Due to the limited focus of sector and currency funds, they may experience greater volatility, and a greater degree of risk than funds with a broader investment strategy. They are not intended to serve as a complete investment program by themselves.

S&P Country Specific BMI indices include equities chosen from the largest capitalization of those available from each country.

Options

Options carry a high level of risk and are not suitable for all investors. Certain requirements must be met to trade options through Schwab. Please read the options disclosure document titled Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options (<https://www.theocc.com/Company-Information/Documents-and-Archives/Options-Disclosure-Document>). Investing involves risks, including loss of principal.

The price displayed may be delayed up to one minute from the time the page is initially loaded or refreshed. The price is based on the Cboe One Real-time Quotes or consolidated market quotes.

Option quotes are delayed for non-paying professional users or client of unknown status.

Options data is provided by the Options Price Reporting Authority.
